Objects to Interference by Japanese in Expelling Germans From Kiau Chow

Stated Japanese Idea Is To Gain Hold of Chinese Territory

Resolution Before U.S. House States Self-Evident Release of Kiau Chow to Japs Would Be Inimical to Interests of China and United States—President Indicates Confidence of Orientals' Good Faith.

Washington, Aug. 17.—A resolution directing Secretary of State Bryan to protest against the announced intention of Japan to take over the German leased territory of Kiau Chow, China, was introduced in the house today by Representative Britten of Illinois. The resolution quotes the Japanese ultimatum to Germany demanding the withdrawal of all armed forces in Chinese territory or waters and the surrender of Kiau chow to Japan and continues: "Whereas it is self-evident that the release of said territory to the Japanese government would be inimical to the interests of the United States, and China whose territory should be preserved, therefore be it resolved, that the secretary of state be and is hereby directed to communicate with the Japanese government that the United States views with concern the transfer by force of arms of any Chinese territory to Japan or any other foreign nation or any transfer of territory without the unconditional consent of the Chinese government."

Representative Britten said that the course of Japan appears to be a warlike step to gain a hold on Chinese territory. The resolution was introduced in an informal manner without special attention being directed to it and later was referred to a committee.

The president made it clear that the United States would not be involved in any way in the Japanese-German controversy and spoke of the assurances of Japan that she would maintain the integrity of China as having been given to the powers generally as well as the United States. Asked particularly as to the promise of Japan for the "eventful restoration to China" of the German Provinces, he indicated his confidence in the good faith of Japan to carry out that assurance at the close of the war.

Stated Turks in Bulgaria; Greece Says Corresponding Measures Immediately Taken

London, Aug. 17.—Official despatches say Greece has received information that Turkish troops are crossing Bulgarian territory and marching in the direction of Greece. The Hellenic government in consequence of these reports has notified Turkey that if this news should be confirmed, corresponding military and naval measures will be taken immediately by Greece.

PRICE ASKED FOR MOUNTS SAID TO BE EXTORTIONATE

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—There are strong indications that attempts are being made to hold up the militia department in the purchase of horses needed for the batteries and for other purposes on the Canadian expeditionary force. Col. Neill, director of veterinary service, announces that, though there are plenty of first class horses in the east, the price being offered, especially in western Ontario, where excellent horses are raised, is poor, and the price asked is extortionate. It is suspected that in that part a ring has been formed which has for its purpose the dumping upon the department of cull animals at a high price.

About 10,000 good and bad, reasonable and expensive, have so far been offered for sale. Only $200 are needed so that there is no question of scarcity. All the artillery units for the overseas expedition arrived, have been ordered into barracks at headquarters by Col. Morrison, director of artillery. They are ordered to proceed at once to complete their equipment and place themselves in a war footing. They will thereafter go to Quebec. In this respect they differ from the infantry, who leave for Val Cartier immediately upon mobilization.

ENGLISH WOMEN READY TO DEFEND BRITAIN'S SHORES

Lady Cook Starts Campaign to Put Arm of 150,000 in Readiness.

London, Aug. 17.—England is going to have regiments of women. They may have as their generala such women as Queen Amelia of Portugal, the Duchess of Marlborough, and Mrs. Pankhurst. They will resist any invasion of the German and Austrian forces. Lady Cook is the originator of the plan. She has launched a stirring campaign to put a woman's army in readiness for battle. She hopes to have 150,000 women in the army, thoroughly organized and well drilled, in three months. Lady Cook outlined her plan today. She pointed out that the women would be the local defenders of the country when the men are all away at the front.

German Residents Arrested. New York, N.Y., Aug. 17.—All German residents in Jamaica have been placed under arrest according to the captain of the ship Odissea in port today from Jamaica port. The Odissea carried the Norwegian flag.

PREPARATIONS OF LOCAL MILITARY ARE CONTINUING

101st Using School Grounds for Drills; Many Volunteers Offering.

Military preparations continue in Edmonton. The High School grounds are being used for drills by the 101st regiment, while the 19th continue to drill on the grounds near the Parliament buildings. The contingent of the 19th is 200 strong. Only the men who are enlisted in the special service squadrons are on pay and subsistence, as the three squadrons, A, B and C, of the 19th have not been mobilized.

The 101st have instructions to recruit up to 1,000 men, and enlistment is proceeding rapidly, a staff of medical ex-ministers being kept busy at the headquarters on 4th street.

It is confidently expected that orders to leave for Quebec will be received both by the special service squadron of the 19th and by the 101st during the present week. Meanwhile the officers are making the best use of the interval of waiting and every day sees the men better fitted for the work that is ahead of them. A detachment of the cavalry was out this morning, the men riding horses which have been purchased during the last few days. The men were recruits but rode well and the mounts were a pretty good class of animal.

The French consular agent in Calgary has been directed to inform the French deserters that the government of the republic has just passed a law granting them pardon for all military offences committed previous to the 2nd August, 1914, provided that they report themselves to the military authorities in France on or before the 14th September, 1914.

The French deserters and recruits may report themselves to Alex. Michet, 2324 Jasper avenue, Edmonton, who will provide them free transportation to Montreal.

GERMANS SLOWLY DRIVEN BACK BY FRENCH TO THEIR OWN TERRITORY

Salient Features of Today's War News

The censorship put into effect by British authorities over the movements of the empire's armed forces, afloat and in Belgium is effective to a remarkable degree. No one word of news has come through for several days past concerning British military or naval activities. Censored dispatches from Brussels and Paris have frequently referred to the presence of British troops arrayed against the forces of Germany, but not one word has been allowed to come through from any source to indicate what the numerical strength of the British field army may be or where the units may be located. Equal secrecy shrouds the movements of the British warships, believed to be holding the German fleet in check in the North Sea. Not one word has come through of the position of any British or German battleship, cruiser or torpedo boat, in these waters. So far as the general public is concerned naval activities in European waters are a sealed book.

French official reports assert that the French continue their forward march in Alsace, where many guns are said to have been captured from the Germans, as well as many prisoners and the standard of an Alsatian infantry regiment, which is now on view at the French war office.

St. Petersburg reports successes by the Russian troops over the Austrians on the frontier where an Austrian dragoon regiment is said to have suffered severely in a sabre engagement. A German dreadnaught is reported by the captain of a Dutch steamer as having been put out of action. He asserted on arriving in Holland today that she was lying in the harbor at Trondhjem severely damaged. No confirmation has been received in official quarters.

A naval battle between French and Austrian warships off Budua, Dalmatia, is said to have resulted in the sinking of two Austrian iron clads while one was set on fire and another fled.

Four British warships are reported to have chased two Austrian cruisers from Anilvari, where they had established a blockade.

The standard of the famous Deaths Head Hussars, the German Crown Prince Regiment, is said to have been captured by the Belgians.

Despatches saying Greece had received information of the passage through Bulgarian territory of Turkish troops going toward Greece are published in Copenhagen. It is said Greece has threatened to take similar measures.

Germany has followed England's example and that of other countries in acknowledging receipt of President Wilson's offer of good offices. Russia has not yet replied.

J. P. Morgan and company have abandoned a proposed loan to France owing to Washington's financial transaction which are under negotiations. The Japanese press regards the ultimatum sent to Germany as containing reasonable demands.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE ABOUT 100 GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN BOATS

London, Aug. 17.—The Russian fleet in the Black sea in the beginning of operations, has captured about a hundred German and Austrian merchant vessels trading in those waters. Many of them were tank steamers, conveying oil.

Austrian Cruisers Pursued

London, Aug. 17.—A despatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph company says it is reported from Ancona that four British battleships chased the Austrian cruisers Aurora and Salskietz which were blockading Anilvari. The Austrian vessels were pursued until they took refuge in the naval station at Pola.

OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED MANY GUNS HAVE BEEN CAPTURED FROM KAISER'S TROOPS—FRANCE NOW OCCUPIES HEIGHTS TO NORTH OF ALSATIAN FRONTIER—AUSTRIAN ADVANCE CHECKED BY SERBIANS—ROBED PRIESTS LEADING RUSSIANS TO VICTORY.

London, Aug. 17.—In a despatch just made public by the official press bureau here it is announced that China is not willing to allow Japan to expel the Germans from Kiau Chow. It is determined to recover the leased territory through her own initiative and is forwarding troops to begin the battle for its recovery.

London, Aug. 17.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Standard says that the Russian authorities are using two mighty forces to stimulate the zeal for war among the people—religious terror and racial solidarity.

The marching Russians are preceded by a bearded and robed priests of the orthodox church, carrying the cross. Bands play alternatively religious music and patriotic airs.

"It is not merely war," adds the correspondent, "it is a holy crusade in accordance with the pan-Slavic idea."

Paris, Aug. 17.—An official announcement today by the French war office says: "The advance of the French armies continues to develop. Our troops have taken the heights to the north of the Alsatian frontier in German territory and the French line now passes through Abrechtville, Lorquin, Azoudange and Marsal.

"In the Donon or Rougemont region we have occupied Schirmeck and captured 12 German field guns, eight machine guns and 12 gun carriages with ammunition.

"Our cavalry has penetrated as far as Lutzelhausen and Mulbach or Rosheim.

"Faithful to the south we occupy villa east of Durbeis on the road to Schlestadt and Saint Croix aux Mines and some heavy field artillery have been captured by the French troops.

"In Alsace we have a strongly supporting line from Thann through Cernay to Sainte Marie."

St. Petersburg (Via London), Aug. 17.—On August 16 Austrian advance guards penetrated a short distance into the Russian territory. It is reported that this offensive movement was checked by the Russian troops.

"An Austrian attempt to advance from Andrejew toward Kielce failed on August 15, when the Russian troops by a series of brilliant cavalry attacks succeeded in dislodging the enemy from Kielce and also occupied a town in Tomaszoff district.

London, Aug. 17.—(6.55 a.m.)—The correspondent of the Reuter Telegraph company, at Nish, Serbia, telegraphing under date of August 15, says: "Our troops at Buyak, near Lyma, successfully repelled the enemy."

Near Kunchich, opposite Lomniza, the enemy has thrown a bridge across the Drina and fortified its position on both banks. The night at Belgrade passed quietly.

France Replies to Wilson. London, Aug. 17.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Paris says that the French foreign minister, Rene Viviani, replying to the American offer of mediation, remarked that France has been attacked despite her ready refusal to take the aggressive and says in thanking President Wilson: "You may be assured that the French government and people will recognize in your idea new evidence of your interest in the destiny of France."

Austrian Cruiser Sunk. London, Aug. 17.—The British official news bureau today says: "The French fleet in the Mediterranean has made a sweep up the Adriatic sea to the Gulf of Cattaro. A small Austrian cruiser of the Aspern type of 2,264 tons was fired upon by the French vessels and sunk."

French Losses Heavy. London, Aug. 17.—A Brussels despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says the French casualties in the fighting between Namur and Dinant were heavy as the Germans were strongly entrenched and their artillery at the outset played great havoc with the French. The French wing at Dinant had been badly cut up and nearly routed when suddenly the strains of the Marseillaise resounded in the French lines and the men rallied and reformed. With splendid gallantry they charged, hurling themselves on the German troops, breaking through their lines and putting them to flight.

Hamburg American Boat Captured. New York, Aug. 17.—A message from Santos, Brazil, posted today at the Maritime Exchange, announces that the Hamburg-American steamship they charged, having themselves on the German troops, breaking through their lines and putting them to flight.

Four Are Arrested. Port Arthur, Aug. 17.—Officers of a passenger steamer which arrived here this morning from the Soo state four men are under arrest there for an attack on the wireless station.

German Dreadnaught Disabled.

BULLETIN—London, Aug. 17.—(2.15 p.m.)—A dispatch from Amsterdam to the Central News says the captain of the Dutch steamer Epsilon on his arrival at Ymuiden reported seeing a German dreadnaught in the harbor at Trondhjem which had been put out of action. Her funnels were smashed and on one side she was scarred with holes from shell fire.

Greece Demands Explanation.

London, Aug. 17.—A Reuter dispatch from Rome says that the Paris correspondent of the Tribune hears that Greece has decided to demand explanations from Constantinople regarding the concentration of Turkish troops on the frontier. Unless the reply is satisfactory Greece will mobilize forthwith.

Socialists Rising in Revolt.

London, Aug. 17.—A despatch received by the Central News from Rome says: "Fugitives arriving here from Berlin declare that the socialists are rising in revolt throughout Germany, following the execution of their leader Dr. Liebknecht."

Thousand Prisoners Taken.

London, Aug. 17.—The official press bureau of the war office and admiralty has issued a statement saying that French troops in the course of a rapid advance along the valley of the Schirmack have taken a thousand prisoners.

The scene of the fighting of the last few days in Upper Alsace, the official announcement continues, shows the great destructive effects of the fire of the allied artillery, trenches abandoned by the enemy are filled with dead and wounded.

London, Aug. 17.—(5.30 a.m.)—An official communication issued by the French war office Sunday and telegraphed by the Paris correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says: "At the moment that the German main force is in contact with our troops," says the war office "our allies will force both Austria and Germany to engage in an additional struggle which, it seems likely, will be of vast proportions."

"It is well known by now that the Germans anticipated the decisive defeat of the French so that they might immediately follow up such success by a battle against our allies. It is also well known that they counted on the slow mobilization of the Russian forces and upon disturbances in Poland to gain time for their arms. The emperor, however, by his promise to give autonomy to Poland, has obtained the fidelity of the Poles and Russia's mobilization has been accomplished with remarkable rapidity."

Russian Army Moving Forward.

The Russian army is now moving forward for an offensive blow, the result of which will soon be felt. Already in Galicia Russian cavalry has crossed the frontier and Austrian cavalry and infantry have been routed while other battalions have turned tail.

"Germany is being put on the defensive and it is impossible to avoid the conclusion that her position at the front is not what could be desired by her at such a critical time in her history."

A troublesome problem of the world is likely to be the housing and guarding of prisoners. Already more than 5,000 Germans have been captured before the battles have really begun. The Belgians are sending a large proportion of their prisoners into France. When the big battle is on, when at least 2,000,000 men engaged, the number of prisoners probably will run into vast and embarrassing totals on both sides.

Exchanges of Prisoners.

There will be exchanges of prisoners, but these are not always easy to arrange. Another difficulty is anticipated in the matter of the commissariat for the unprecedentedly large armies. The Germans are even now confronted with this gigantic task.

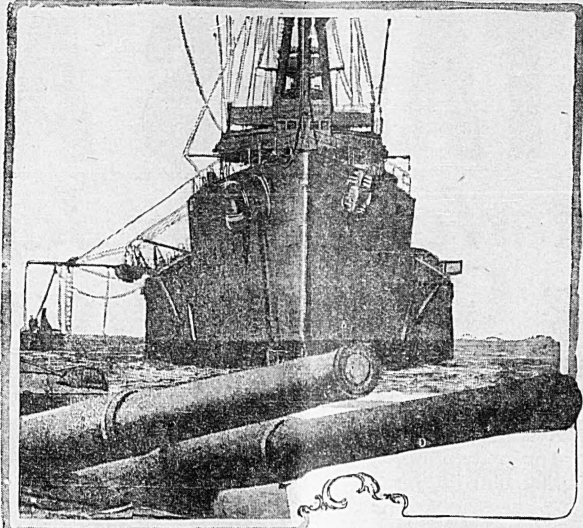

The Chronicle today publishes a despatch from Amsterdam which says it is reported that the Austrian troops in Belgium are under the command of Count Von Buelow.

A despatch from Paris to the Havas agency says French troops have occupied the town of Schirmeck, 12 kilometres beyond Saales in Alsace. They took 12 field guns, 12 cannons and eight rapid fire guns. The French cavalry then pushed on to Mulbach and Mulhausen.

JAPS' ULTIMATUM SAYS SHIPS MUST LEAVE KIAU CHAU

Tokio, Aug. 16.—Japan Saturday night sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding that she withdraw her warships and evacuate Kiau Chau. Unless Germany unconditionally accepts by August 23, Japan will take action.

The text of the ultimatum has created a profound impression, although it had been predicted that Japan was making ready to participate in the war.

Count Okuma, the premier, and Takaaki Wato, the foreign minister, addressed meetings of merchants, members of parliament and others, and counselled a calm attitude. They declared Japan had no ambition for territorial aggrandizement.

The ultimatum is as follows: "We consider it highly important and necessary in the present situation to take measures to remove the causes of all disturbances of the peace in the far east and to safeguard the general interests as contemplated by the agreement of alliance between Japan and Great Britain."

In order to secure a firm and enduring peace in eastern Asia, the establishment of which is the aim of the said agreement, the Imperial Japanese government sincerely believes it to be its duty to give the advice to the Imperial German government to carry out the following two propositions:

"First—To withdraw immediately from Kiau Chau and the adjacent German men-of-war and armed vessels of all kinds, and to disarm at once those which cannot be withdrawn."

"Second—To deliver on a date not later than September 15, to the Imperial Japanese authorities, without condition or compensation, the entire leased territory of Kiau-chau with a view to the eventual restoration of the same to China."

The Imperial Japanese government announced at the same time that in the event of it not receiving by noon on August 23, 1914, an answer from the Imperial German government, signifying its unconditional acceptance of the above advice offered by the Japanese government, Japan will be compelled to take such action as she may deem necessary to meet the situation.

Inspired utterances express regret at the inability to maintain neutrality, but say that Great Britain, ally of Japan, is compelled to defend herself against the aggressions of Germany. Moreover, it is pointed out that Germany is making preparations day and night at Kiau Chau where it is storing provisions, while its warships are scouring the seas of Eastern Asia, to the great detriment of commerce, and that its converted cruisers are seizing English merchant vessels. Such action, it is argued, are directly calculated to disturb the peace of eastern Asia and accordingly, after full and frank communication with Britain, Japan has found herself compelled to send an ultimatum to Germany.

TOWN OF HAELEN CONVERTED INTO HUGE CEMETERY

London, Aug. 17.—A trip over the battlefield of Diest, Belgium, is described by the Brussels correspondent of the Daily News. He says: "I remember best a brown stretch of harrowed ground, half a furlong in length, which is the grave of 1,200 Germans who fell in the fighting of Wednesday. All over the field are other graves, some of Germans, some of Belgians, and some of horses."

"When I reached the place, peasants with long shades were still engaged in the work of burial. The battle ground is about three miles long with the village of Haelen at one end. The village is hardly scarred. Its houses are pierced with bullets. Hardly a pane of glass remains. The church spire is tumbled over and the town clock wrecked from its place."

"As I crossed the battlefield, a German biplane passed swiftly like a cart on wheels seeking other victims. Later in the day I visited the Bruges prison, where 400 Germans are held. I never before saw men sleep as these men did. They lay like logs. Seven days and seven nights had they been almost constantly on duty on the field of battle. These prisoners are no cowards. They surrendered only when no other course was possible. They were victims of the German military system, which drills men out of all independence."

BELGIAN PRIVATES SHOOT OFFICERS BUT LOSES HIS OWN LIFE

Cardiff, Wales, Aug. 17.—A letter has been received here from a private in the Belgian army describing how a young corporal named Lupton shot the officers and gunners of a German battery and then was killed by a German shell at Liege.

The letter said the Germans, having failed in a frontal attack, were bringing up artillery when Lupton, exclaiming: "Leave them to me," dashed out. Taking cover behind a wall to the German left he shot down in quick succession the chief officer, then the other officers and finally most of the gunners. The Germans were left unprotected their last gun at the wall bringing it down and crushing Lupton.

Are Eager to Return.

Paris, Aug. 17.—A special train, the first cars of which were filled with wounded French soldiers and the others occupied by captured Uhlans, arrived here yesterday. # Belgian Officer Declares von Emmich Committed Suicide

London, Aug. 16.—A despatch to the Central News Agency from its Paris correspondent says that Gen. Emmich, commander of the German fifteenth army corps, is in a hospital at the front on account of a bullet wound which passed through his neck. The Brussels correspondent of the Star says a Belgian officer who escaped from Liege brought details of the death of General von Emmich. The officer declared von Emmich committed suicide. The correspondent says it is stated that Gen. von Emmich's unlimited confidence in the German army and its style of fighting was shattered by the events around Liege.

SUPERIOR FRENCH GUNNERY DRIVES THE ENEMY BACK

Saturday's Fighting at Dinant a Decisive Defeat for Germans
—Repeated Attempts by Kaiser's Airmen to Destroy Town Falls—Tuetons Lose Heavily in Fight.

London, Aug. 17.—The Times correspondent at Namur, Belgium, who witnessed the fighting at Dinant Saturday, says:

"The battle occupied a whole day, but was made up of two actions. The first continued from morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The second occupied the remainder of the afternoon. From early morning, when the Germans took possession of a part of the town into the woods at the side of the Meuse, four miles from the river. The artillery then took charge of the battle. At the same moment a French infantry regiment advancing along the Meuse on the right bank from Houy, at the south of Namur, flung itself on the Germans in the town, and aided by artillery, drove them off. It was always the Germans who were retiring along the Meuse to the south of the town, and always the French who moved forward their batteries. The French drove the Germans southward."

"To all appearances the French artillery was better than the German. The number of killed and wounded must have been heavy."

"Several attempts have been made by the Germans to destroy this town by means of an attack with aeroplanes bombs with the past few days."

"On Friday night an aviator dropped three bombs during a fast flight across the city. One of these fell on the sidewalk of the bridge d'Osmont, injuring five men. Saturday a bomb struck the roof of the railway station, injuring one man, but doing only slight damage to the building."

MR. DOOLEY

ON THE MILITARY CAREER BY FINLEY PETER DUNNE

"They were well armed an' munny iv thim were in th' shippards, where it wud be almost impossible to attack thim without takin' a polisman along."

"Good mornin', Alexander; take that. How d'ye do, Michael, th' same to ye with this pick ax!"

"WELL, sir," said Mr. Dooley, "I'm glad to see th' trouble in Ulster is over."

"What's happened?" asked Mr. Hennessy.

"It's hard fr me to make out fr'm th' fragmentary reports iv th' war correspondents," said Mr. Dooley. "But as far as I can see th' situation stands about like this: Th' ar-mny iv Ulster has won a splendid vickthry, but th' English ar-mny has not been disgraced. It has retracted with colors flyin', dhurms batin', an' nayether its honor nor its buttons tarnished. Gin'ral Ed Carson, th' dauntless leader iv Ulster, magnanimously permitted th' officers to retain their side arms, dancin' programs, tea caddies, an' enough marmalade to sustain thim until fresh supplies can be for'arded fr'm home. Gin'ral Carson is to be proclaimed king or impror iv forty-four per cent iv th' county iv Antrim, impror iv thirty per cent iv th' County Down, an' proclor iv th' County Donegal, or such part thereof as needs his protection. It was a gr-rear war, an' I'm glad it's over an' order has been restored in Ireland. Now ye may see some fightin'."

"Arly in January th' king iv England ordered an immedjit attack on th' rebels under Gin'ral Carson. A council iv war was hurriedly called, consistin' iv Gin'ral Lord Guff, Gin'ral Lord Stuff, Gin'ral Lord Bluff, Gin'ral Lord Muff, an' Gin'ral th' Hon'able Percy Algernon Herbert Fluff. Owin' to th' unaccountable delay in th' tailorin' department th' uniforms were not completed until arly in March, when intine excitement was noticed at th' war office. Cabs dashed up an' dashed away, waiters rushed in an' out, an' all th' grim signs iv th' comin' conflict cud be observed. Inside th' of' structure, when th' tea things had been cleared away, th' stratejists gathered around th' board an' laid out th' plan iv campaign. After that ivints followed in rapid succession. It was determined to reconither th' inimy's position at wanst. A strong force under Gin'ral Fluff swooped down on a neighborin' news stand an', after a brief but fierce resistance, which did honor to both parties, procured copies iv all th' mornin' pa-pers. These were hurried to th' council board, where after a hasty examination iv th' racin' news th' gin'als gleaned fr'm spies that Gin'ral Carson's forces numbered in th' neighborhood iv fr'm wan thousand to five hundred thousand picked men, most iv thim silited fr'm th' ladin' stores iv Belfast but includin' a gr-rear munny who had seen achal service under Lord Londonderry, ayether mounted or as footmen. They were well armed with rifles, monkey wrenches, pick axes, pikes, hoespikes, bricks, nutmeg graters, an' religious convictions. They were intrinched behind counters or in butlers' pantries, an' munny iv thim were in th' shippards, where it wud be almost impossible to attack thim without takin' a polisman along. Gin'ral Carson himself occupied a house in th' suburbs, where he was heavily guarded by a few zealous frinds an' made occasional sorties in a cab fr' lunch or dinner, but always took his breakfast at home, like th' of' campaigner he is. It was plain at wanst that it wud be worse thim folly to attempt to attack this disprist an' well armed organization. 'It is apparent to me that we have been outmanoevered,' said Gin'ral Guff. 'It wud be a military crime to sacrifice a British ar-mny in such a rash entherprise,' said Gin'ral Bluff. 'Carson is in a disprist mood,' said Gin'ral Muff. 'Hiven knows what he might do if pressed. He has had lagal thrainin' an' he might get out an' injunction against us. I will not lead me gallant fellows against a possible concealed write or some devilish contrivance like that. I've been in such an action before, in th' chancery courts, an' I know th' cost,' he says. So second place," says th' gin'ral with risin' anger, 'I won't make anny further sacrifice iv blood an' treasure to put Ireland in th' hands iv people that keep Lent with so much bigotry that they'd soon destroy th' salmon fishin', says he. 'Why didn't ye say that before?' says th' sicerity iv war. 'I had no idee that such a horrible catastrophe was starin' us in th' face,' he says. An', embracin' th' gin'ral an' pimin' th' Victory cross on his chest, he sint him back with instructions fr th' ar-mny to beat a hasty retreat. An' they beat it. "I don't blame English gin'als fr not wantin' to fight thim Ulster men. If I was an Englishman, which, thank goodness, I'm not, th' last in Ireland. They are an onraisable an' slow actin' people, while we're raisable an' impetchus. "But whin sojers strike I don't know what's goin' to happen. Th' nex' thing ye know a polisman will refuse to catch a burglar because th' house he's robbin' is ownded by a Republican. Thin a fireman will come down th' ladder, throw th' hose on th' ground, an' say: 'Cap, I ain't goin' to squirt out that fire. I see a pitcher iv William Jennings Bryan on th' wall.' An' th' cap will say: 'Ye done right, me boy. Sind th' comp'ny back to th' injine house.' "Anyhow, I don't blame a gin'ral fr not wantin' to fight. With a sojer it's diff'rent, but ye'er impetchus blood is bilin' beyond endurance, if nawthin' but slaughter will satisfy ye'er ardent nature, ye'll find me soord hangin' in th' closet. Take it, me boy, an' lead ye'erself to death or victhry, or both. I'll stay back here an' tell ye what to do fr'm time to time, I'd say. No, sir; if Andrew Carnagie ra-aly wants to have peace an' isn't on'y on a spree with his money, he'll stop hirin' orators an' thry to have th' English idee took up be all th' wuruld. Lave th' makin' iv war to th' gin'als an' we'll have peace. No gin'ral ought to go to war unless he was ready, an' no gin'ral that knows his business ought iver to be ready. Maybe that's why we've had so few wars lately. Th' statesmen ar-re always prepared to fly somebody else at th' throat iv th' inimy iv their country, but just as things looks fine fr a fight th' gin'ral steps in an' whispers in th' statesman's ear: 'We are in a wretched state iv onreadiness. We have only three million men an' not more thim seventy thousand million rounds iv ammunition, an' he'd be bade in a week, an' he goes home an' goes to bed an' th' nex' day th' pa-pers says th' situation has been improved by mutual concessions."

"But with th' private sojer it's diff'rent. If ye left it to him therr'd be nawthin' but war. Th' martial jooties iv a sojer in pipin' times iv peace, as Hogan says, seems to excite him to go out an' kill some wan. A young fellow, after changin' his name so's his parents won't know he's took up th' ancient an' noble pro-fission iv arms, enlists an' goes where glory waits him. Whin it ketches him it ayether puts him to wurruk at his old thrade at wan-fifth th' union scale or teaches him a new an' akelly unpleasant occupation. A plumber who goes into th' army to duck th' disgraceful pro-fission at five dollars a day finds he's whip' jints in th' barracks fr wages that wud make th' walkin' dillygate have him shot at sunrise. Whin not thrillin' or writin' letters to th' pa-aper complainin' about th' food, he tiles away his time in curryin' horses, shinglin' roofs, hoein' weeds in th' colonel's garden, or wheelin' th' major's baby in th' peramblyator. Some day he does somethin' that if he done it before he become a hero th' most he cud get wud be a ten days' vacation in th' bridewell. Th' coort martial takes into account all th' extenootin' circumstances an' gives him two years at hard labor. Small blame to him if ye never hear him yellin' 'hooray' whin Andrew Carnagie goes on. No, sir; if I had iver been tempted by thim colored pitchers to enlist an' th' gin'ral was to come to me an' say, 'Corporal!—fr I'd be that or nawthin'—th' government wishes ye to go out an' fight Hin-nissy, ye'er best frind. Can we rely on ye?' I'd say, 'Hin-nissy? That little, disagreeable fellow? Why, I've wanted to shoot that man fr forty years.' 'Thin I will lead ye to victhry.' 'I don't care where ye lead me to. On'y lead me away fr'm here.'"

"I see in th' pa-aper that if thim gin'als were in Germany they'd be banged," said Mr. Hennessy.

"If thim gin'als were in Germany they wudden't be gin'als," said Mr. Dooley.

"Whin not thrillin' he idles away his time in wheelin' the major's baby in the peramblyator."

it was determined to sind Gin'ral Lord Guff over to see th' sicerity iv war an' discuss th' matter with him. Th' supream chief iv th' ar-mny received him sternly an', after th' tea things had been cleared away, demanded to know why he had disobeyed orders, an' wud he give him a light? 'We have decided to discontinue this crool, unnecessary war,' says th' gin'ral gruffly, puffin' a cigaret. 'Why?' says th' sicerity iv war angrily. 'Because,' says th' gin'ral, 'in th' first place th' inimy ar-re armed,' says he. 'That is a reason that don't appeal to me at this distance,' says th' sicerity iv war haughtily. 'An' in th' inimy I'd pick out wud be thim tough fellows fr'm th' north. As foreigners I despise thim, but as fellow countrymen an' 'inimies I hold thim in th' highest regard. Now that th' military has retired, if th' polis will kindly step aside, we'll reason th' argymint where it was left off whin th' English had th' presumption to interfere. Good mornin', Alexander; take that. How d'ye do, Michael, th' same to ye with this pick ax! We understand each other perfectly. So we must fight. Nawthin' leads to trouble so quick as a perfect understandin'. Th' English don't understand us an' they always mess things up

If I was a gin'ral I'd d'ieve a fut cud they drive me into a war without they loaded a cannon behind me. If a statesman come to me an' said, 'Gin'ral Dooley, in order to square meself with me constituents in Kansas I must ast ye to grab th' ol' flag an' rush into a gory grave,' I'd say, 'No, thank ye kindly, I'd say; I'm comfortable here. It's a good job, th' quarters are to me likin', I'm told be th' fair that th' uniform is becomin'."

THE LOGICAL CURE FOR UNEMPLOYMENT.

For the purpose of making provision for the unemployed, Mayor Hocken of Toronto is suggesting to the Borden government at Ottawa that the government undertake to break up a million acres of unused land in the west and place unemployed persons thereon so that they may be able to produce something for their own upkeep and as an addition to the aggregate wealth of the country.

The suggestion is a very good one; but it seems rather surprising that it should require the crisis of a war to bring to the minds of prominent Canadians the self-evident fact that the solution of unemployment at all times is to be found in getting people onto the land.

In the handling of her land question, Canada has been the buffon of the world. Following an absurd fetish entitled the homestead policy, and aggravating this with an equally absurd policy of land grants to railways, she has alienated sufficient land to raise the entire food supply of the British Empire, without even the scintilla of a provision requiring that the land be put to use.

In its practical working out, the homestead policy has resolved itself into a system by which a large percentage of those who go onto the land are men altogether unequipped with the necessary capital to make proper use of a quarter section. They putter along for three years under the handicap of having nothing to work with, and finally relinquish their holdings to some mortgage or land-holding company which is permitted to withhold the land against any trespass until the demand for land is sufficient that the land holding corporation can demand a purchase price of whoever would make use of the quarter. The result is that the settler equipped with the necessary capital to work the land and establish a home is penalized right in the commencement with a charge for the land which absorbs a large percentage of his original capital and entails deferred payments and interest which continue as a drag on his industry for one, two or three decades, as the case may be.

The practical working out of the railway land grant system is the same, only worse.

The effect of the system is that in every district in the west there are great numbers of unworked farms, with a scattering, in between, of farms which are worked and occupied.

As a consequence of this system the railway mileage has to be inordinately extended, children have to go long distances to school, the social life of the farmer is largely one of isolation, the distances to town are out of all reason, and the progress and development of the country is handicapped and held up.

And all to what purpose? Simply so that speculators, whose activities are of no benefit whatever to the country, may harvest an easy increment from land through the simple process of holding it out of use.

The absurdity of all this is too apparent to need comment. "So opposite is it all to the best interests of the country that one has only to look at the homestead law to realize that this was not even the original intent." On the contrary, the homestead law was designed to get the land into the hands of farmers who would turn it to its most advantageous use, and would continue to use it. But the men who made the law were blind.

The land law required in Western Canada is one which will make all titles contingent upon the use of the land. In other words, the holder of farm land should be compelled to use it or relinquish it so that someone who would use it would have the free opportunity.

The homestead policy required in Canada is one which would so equip farmers for those anxious to use them that any man of family and with some practical experience of farming could move onto a farm all ready for him to go to work.

The cold prosaic reason why a very large number of the unemployed do not go onto the land under the system in vogue at the present time is that large numbers of them have not the necessary capital to buy a cow, let alone pay the first purchase instalment and put in a crop. Everyone in Western Canada knows this, and has known it for years, although it required a war crisis to center attention upon the circumstance.

But with a land policy making it impossible to hold land out of use, and a homestead policy making it possible for any industrious man to engage in farming, there would be no unemployment in Canada, either in war time or any other time.

If Mayor Hocken's proposal attracts sufficient attention to bring the matter to the serious consideration of the Canadian people, there is some hope that Canada may abolish unemployment.

A POSSIBILITY AT WHICH THE MIND PAUSES TO GASP.

Speaking about "scientific" warfare, there is a prognosis made in the piping times of peace so recently past which will undoubtedly be giving Londoners some uneasy hours these days. It was the prophecy that London would not be safe from the aerial fleets of the Germans.

Most of the guessing of the past few years as to the probable destructiveness of new war machinery has been centered upon air ships. In the war so far as it has gone, the air craft have justified at least a part of the prophecies made for them. All nations are using them very effectively for scouting purposes. But for offensive purposes they do not seem to come quite up to advance notices. The air craft which sails over to drop bombs stands a very good chance of being dropped itself.

But there is a season coming when, at least so far as London is concerned, the air craft will be under no such handicap. Everyone knows about the London fog. When one of these settles down, in November and December, it is not only impossible to see an air ship, but quite frequently impossible to see across the narrow streets of London.

With such an enveloping cover as this, what damage a bomb-scattering fleet of Zeppelins might do to London! This mind pauses to gasp at the possibilities.

CHAPTER XXII—Continued.

Then came the distribution of pamphlets wherein it was decreed that the populace, the soldiery, all Alhalla in fact, must bow to the will of the gods go henceforth unopposed. The gods demanded the reinstatement as troop Durga Ram, the deposing of Ramal, the infidel, the chief of the troops to Durga Ram. Twenty-four hours were given the people to make their choice.

Before the doors of all the temples the people gathered, walling and pouring dust upon their heads, and then to march, from high cast matrons to light dancing girls. And when the troops, company by company, began to kneel at the outer gates of these gatherings, Ramal dispatched a note to Colonel Hare, warning him to fly at once. But the messenger tore the note and flew to his favorite temple. Superstition thus won what honor, truth and generosity could not hold.

Alhalla surrendered; and Unhappily came forth. All this happened so quickly that not even a rumor of it reached the Colonel's bungalow until it was too late. They were to have left on the morrow. The king dead, only a few minor technicalities stood in the way of Ramal's rule.

Unhappily was kneeling on the ground, his eyes wide with fright, burst in upon them with the news that Unhappily, at the head of his soldiers, was approaching. The lovers rushed to the front of the bungalow in time to witness the Colonel trying to prevent the intrusion of a priest.

"Patience, Sahib!" warned the priest. The Colonel, upon seeing the priest, drew a revolver, but the soldier prevented him from carrying into execution his wild impulse.

The priest explained what had happened. The Colonel Sahib, his friend, Bruce Sahib and his young daughter would be permitted to depart in peace; but Kathlyn Membership must depart with them.

When the dazed Colonel produced the document which had been legally cancelled, Unhappily laughed and declared that he himself had forged that particular document, the true one which he held, was not legally destroyed.

Burning with the thought of revenge of reproof, how could Durga Ram know that he thus dug his own pit? Had he let them go he would have eventually been crowned, as surely as now his path led straight to the treadmill.

Alhalla alone escaped, because Unhappily had in his triumph forgotten him!

IDEA OF FRENCH LOAN ABANDONED BY MORGAN CO.

Attitude of Washington Official Results in Termination of Negotiations.

New York, Aug. 17.—Abandonment by J. P. Morgan and company of a proposed loan to France because of attitude of the administration at Washington is expected to terminate negotiations recently under way here in behalf of other belligerents, including Austria. It was understood in the financial district that the Austrian bankers had sounded American bankers, presumably through its ambassador, regarding the prospect of a $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 loan, chiefly for the purchase of foodstuffs in this country.

SEWERAGE DISPOSAL PROPOSITION AGAIN BEFORE COMMISSION

Dr. W. C. Laidlaw, P.N., and Dr. R. B. Owens, provincial engineer and Dr. A. C. Hankin, provincial bacteriologist, members of the provincial board of health, appeared before the board of city commissioners Monday morning for the purpose of discussing the proposition of the proposed sewerage disposal plant, the necessity of which was urged on the city more than two years ago.

While no site for the plant has been secured, it was suggested by the provincial engineer that the city proceed with plans for the plant and it was the sentiment of the provincial board that all co-operation would be afforded by the government in bringing the proposition to successful issue.

Various plans, which have been under discussion for the past two years were again considered, and a committee consisting of Mr. Owens, provincial engineer, and J. A. Latorelli, city engineer, to take up with the government the matter of providing a site for the plant.

Mayor McNamara stated that if the government could be induced to give the old rifle range for the purpose there would be no difficulty of the land, but funds for installation of the plant.

FOUR ARISTOCRATIC GENERATIONS HORSES OWNED BY THE WARNERS

It is not the kindness of one generation which shows in "Spry," the 25-year-old horse owned by D. W. Warner, Edmonton, which won the gold medal awarded by the Edmonton Fair, but rather it is the kindness of many generations.

Mr. Warner is very proud of Spry, and her 24-year-old mate, Brownie, Spry's full sister. For over 100 years Spry's ancestors have been the best of the Warners family, until now they have become as necessary to the family existence as their daily bread.

All their lives Spry and Brownie have belonged to Mr. Warner, and he worked on his farm according to the requirements of the season. At present they are the family drivers.

Spry and Brownie belong to a long-lived breed of horses. At the time of the Civil War Mr. Warner's father sold a horse of this breed for cavalry purposes. This horse was 24 years old, and considered in fine condition for the strenuous work of the war.

Mr. Warner drove Spry and Brownie in the Exhibition stock parade Friday, and very few, if any, would imagine that the fat, well cared for team had reached such mature years.

The Daughters and Maids of England will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. Gregory, 1121 Sixty-fifth street.

The Edmonton branch of the Theosophical society meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Civic Block, in the Civic block. A cordial invitation is given to all in sympathy.

That the special efforts of the chief of police is having an extra police force at the exhibition, met with good results, is evidenced by the fact that no serious crime was committed or any serious complaint had during the week. A squad of 15 constables and a dozen plain clothes detectives were on duty all the week.

There were but two complaints of street-picking during the whole of last week, these cases taking place on street cars and not in the exhibition grounds. The constables and plain clothes characters were ordered out of town by the police and others were brought before the magistrate and charged with vagrancy.

Rubbish burning on the lot at the corner of 18th street and Jasper avenue gave the fire brigade a call on Saturday evening. The fire endangered nearby buildings.

By stepping in front of an automobile on McDougall hill Sunday afternoon, Mr. Dupreneau was knocked down and injured, but after medical attention he is recovering and is expected to be home.

Rev. Dr. Fullerton, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., who was chaplain of the first Canadian contingent, left for Africa was the preacher at Robertson Presbyterian church yesterday morning.
